

Plan International

Introducing Plan

Plan is an international humanitarian, child-focused development organisation working with families and their communities to meet the needs of children around the world. Non-political, and with no religious affiliations, we aim to build a better world for children, now and in the future.

Vision

Plan's vision is of a world in which all children realize their full potential in societies, which respect people's rights and dignity.

Mission

Plan strives to achieve lasting improvements in the quality of life of deprived children in developing countries through a process that unites people across cultures and adds meaning and value to their lives.

- enabling deprived children, their families and their communities to meet their basic needs and to increase their ability to participate in and benefit from their societies.
- fostering relationships to increase understanding and unity.
- promoting the rights and interests of the world's children.

Plan as an international organisation

Plan has for the past 65 years worked to assist millions of deprived children to achieve lasting improvements in the quality of life through a process that unites people across cultures and adds meaning and value to their lives. Today, Plan is one of the world's largest development organisations, with about 7,000 staff and working in 61 countries. 16 of these are donor countries where we raise funds while 45 are program countries like Malawi where we have projects. We work on health, education, livelihood, housing, water and sanitation projects and cross-cultural learning.

Child sponsorship is the foundation of our organisation and we have more than one million sponsors helping 1.3 million children, their families and communities. In our interventions, the community as a whole benefits other than just sponsored children and
